Privacy Policy

Dayton Christian Center is committed to maintaining your confidence and trust, and accordingly continues to have a privacy policy to protect all of the personal information you provide on or offline.

Basic Confidentiality Policy

It is the policy of DXC that personal information, such as your name, postal and e-mail address or telephone number, is private and confidential. Accordingly, the personal information you provide is stored in a secure location, is accessible only by DXC staff, and is used only for the purposes of keeping you up-to-date on agency programs, services, or upcoming events.

If at any time would like to remove your name from the DXC mailing list, or correct your personal information, please email us at info@daytonchristiancenter.org

No Release of Information to Third Parties

Personal information will not be released to third parties under any circumstances except if release is required by law or is pertinent to judicial or governmental investigations or proceedings. There are no other circumstances under which we will provide or sell personal information to third parties.

No Computer Tracking of Identifiable Information

Our web site tracks information about the number of daily visitors to our web site. Our web site then has aggregated statistics which are used internally to improve our services to the public and our website. The statistics contain no personal information and cannot be used to gather such information.
